

Comics for Literacy

Why Teachers should use Comics in Class

www.makebeliefscomix.com

is a great website for with numerous resources available to teachers and students

There are tutorials available for Students & Teachers to view

Students can write storylines as well as be provided templates to help them get started

ESOL, Students with Learning Disabilities, and Autistic students are able to find resources to help them navigate this platform

Writing Prompt and Resources are available for Teachers

Students have access to numerous capabilities in creating comics to tell their story

Students are able to save their work and return to complete it within this platform

What can it do?

Easy steps to sign up:

1

Go to makebeliefscomix.com

2

Create a Login with username and password

3

Watch the introductory tutorial, then get started!

Key Features

Here are a few important features that Teachers & Students will benefit from...

ESOL Students

Allows students who are not proficient in English, the opportunity to create short sentences for understanding and getting their point across.

Writing & Literacy

Through the use of numerous writing prompts to help students get started, there are opportunities to have students improve this skill while still being engaged.

Accessibility

Students and Teachers can create accounts that are free and provide the ability to save assignments. This is also a great website that could be embedded within your school's LMS.

Comics encourage students to show their creativity and helps improve the literacy of students through writing and use of vocabulary!

The website is completely Free! Get started today!